AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The purpose of the bill is to enact the recommendations of the Sunset Advisory Commission on the Department of Information Resources (DIR). DIR is the state's information technology and telecommunications agency. DIR coordinates and supports several critical functions for state agencies and local governments including data center services consolidation; cooperative contracts for information and communications technology services and commodities; the state's telecommunication network (TEX-AN); the Capitol Complex Telephone System; and the state's official website (Texas.gov).

DIR is subject to the Sunset Act and will be abolished on September 1, 2011, unless continued by the legislature. The Sunset Advisory Commission found that Texas continues to need an agency such as DIR to provide these critical services, but identified serious concerns with DIR's management of its internal operations and a lack of much needed oversight. The Sunset Advisory Commission's recommendations aim to limit DIR's focus and increase attention and oversight of the agency by DIR's board and the legislature.

DIR is governed by Chapter 2054 (Information Resources), Government Code, and its statewide purchasing program for information and communications technology commodities is governed by Chapter 2157 (Purchasing: Purchase of Automated Information Systems), Government Code.

H.B. 2499 amends current law by transferring the statewide program for purchasing information and communications technology services and products from DIR to the comptroller of public account's office; requiring the appointment of a new DIR board with members who have specific expertise in business or financial management, information technology, or telecommunications; requiring the DIR board to appoint an internal auditor and establish a board audit subcommittee to provide additional oversight of DIR; requiring DIR to establish clear procedures for setting, adjusting, and approving the administrative fees it charges its customers; establishing certain DIR accounts in statute and clarifies their intended purposes; requiring DIR to develop clear criteria for the appropriate use of contractors and consultants to augment its staff; requiring DIR to establish clear contract management policies, procedures and training, and establish stricter conflict of interest provisions for DIR employees; requiring the board to approve all major contracts, such as the data center services contract, exempting the Department of Agriculture from the data center services consolidation program, and establishing subcommittees to monitor these contracts; requiring customer involvement in decision making for DIR's major contracts; and continuing DIR for six years to provide the legislative oversight necessary to ensure identified problems are corrected.

H.B. 2499 amends current law relating to the continuation and functions of the Department of Information Resources and the transfer of certain department functions to the comptroller of public accounts.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

Rulemaking authority is expressly granted to the governing board of directors of the Department of Information Resources (DIR) in SECTION 20 (Sections 2054.501, 2054.532, 2054.533, and 2054.535, Government Code) of this bill.

Rulemaking authority previously granted to DIR is rescinded in SECTION 22 (Section 2155.503, Government Code) of this bill.

Rulemaking authority previously granted to DIR is transferred to the comptroller of public accounts in SECTION 24 (Section 2157.068, Government Code) of this bill.
