AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Approximately 80 percent of opioid overdose deaths are unintended. At highest risk are the elderly and medically ill who are already medically compromised (this is typically not someone addicted to opioids, but taking opioids for pain as prescribed by a medical doctor). As most of these overdoses are witnessed (family and friends often say they heard the victim “snoring loudly”), there is frequently the opportunity to intervene. The drug naloxone, an opioid antagonist, offers a rapid and easily administered approach to quickly reverse an opioid overdose. While previously only available to hospitals and first responders, there has been a concerted effort towards getting naloxone out into the community—particularly to the friends and family of patients taking opioids on a regular basis.

S.B. 1462 permits the prescription and dispensing of an opioid antidote to a person at risk of experiencing an overdose, or to a family member or friend, and the administration of the antidote by those people.

Persons who act in good faith and with reasonable care in prescribing, dispensing, or administering the antidote, or opt not to, do not face civil or criminal liability under the bill.

S.B. 1462 amends current law relating to the prescription, administration, and possession of certain opioid antagonists for the treatment of suspected opioid overdoses.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
